MARRIED.

PRIOR-MAHER—In this city, August 4, 1892, by Justice of the Peace, W. A. Hawthorne, John M. Prior of this city, and Miss Mary E. Maher of Virginia.

The groom is a typo, and thinks he has a "fat take." He was very shady for a long time, but when he began to go home early and appear on the street with a French twist to his moustache, he was put on the list of "suspects." A host of friends wish Jack and his handsome bride a lot of wedded happiness, and the typos hope that the future will "justify" with the past, as he is a steady, industrious chap, and the APPEAL joins in the usual congratulations.

THE RING REBUKED.

SILVER TICKET SWEEPS THE COUNTY,

And Wipes Out the Court House Combine.

Stewart and Newlands Triumphant.

THE AUSTRALIAN BALLOT LAW GAVE THE PEOPLE A CHANCE.

And the "Ghost Dancers" Win the Stakes.

No quieter election was ever held in this city than yesterday. The Australian ballot worked to a charm. The voters went quietly into the booths, marked their tickets, voted and glided out of the door. Occasionally the old Republican bosses through force of habit, followed the voters to the booths to tell them how to vote, but the silver men made a protest and the practice was soon discontinued. Even the men whom the bosses attempted to instruct, went up with a quiet chuckle and voted for silver.

Both sides were working hard, but the absence of any ticket peddlers on the streets took away much of the bustle and confusion and was a very desirable feature.

The only incident of note was when Dorsey Noteware, who had exacted a promise from all the saloon keepers to close back doors as well as front, found a jug of whiskey in the County Building for the use of Republican voters. He read the temperance and riot act to the parties indulging in a quiet nip as well as the parties who lapsed the demijohn and a large crowd collected. For a while it was supposed that Bidwell would carry the precinct with a heavy prohibition vote.

The Republicans offered to bet money that they had elected Bottsford, but the Kinney men soon bet their opponents to a standstill and presently it was $100 to $80 on Kinney and $20 to $10 on McGowan, with no takers.

When in the evening word was passed out of the 1st ward polling place that the Silver Legislative ticket had carried the precinct by 60 majority, and this was the first intimation the Republicans got of the hard fall they had received in that quarter and the Republican money in the polls grew beautifully less, while the silver men began to assert their right to a large portion of the sidewalk.

Before the count was half over the Republican candidates gave up the fight and went home to bed.

The following is the result:

EUREKA.

Eureka—The city has gone heavily for silver and the great East has gone almost solid for the ticket.

Landor, Nye, and White Pine all in line with splendid majorities.

ALL SORTS.

It was a great land slide and no mistake.

We believe the Tribune a few weeks ago called it the "Sam Davis party."

Mr. Summerfield how do you like the pastime of monkeying with the buzz saw?

Yesterday's result shows that the Republican party can't afford to ignore the West.

The trouble with the Republicans was that they had too many party organs--of a certain kind.

Under the Australian plan a man has to be sober to vote. Under the old regime the ring generally got a man drunk before they took him to the polls.

The work of yesterday gave us a silver legislative ticket and saved the Capitol building from removal to Washoe. The people can always be depended on.

The only explanation we have for the absence of a rooster at the head of our columns is the feeling that we do not dare to trust the bird where the District Attorney can reach it.

Stewart is much more solid with the Democrats, since his war on Harrison than any man in the West and they will not deny any reasonable demand that he makes for Nevada.

Enoch Strother, of Storey, had better pack his grip sack and start for Wall street. He could do good service swabbing out spittoons in the sirlgo of Jay Gould or John Sherman.

The Young Men's Republican Club made a special fight for Summerfield. It was engineered by Messrs. Murphy and Randall, two political buds who have just made their debut. It appears to have been a maiden effort.
